Personal Safety Tips

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln firmly believes a crime survivor is never responsible for the other person's actions or criminal conduct and it is the fault of the perpetrator alone. The UNLPD is providing the following safety tips in an effort to assist the University community with taking the necessary precautions.

- Trust your instincts, and if you feel unsafe in any situation, get to a safe place, and call for help.

- Always remain alert and aware when walking alone, paying full attention to who is around you. Walk with your head up (avoid looking at the ground) and observing your surroundings.
- If after dark, always walk with a friend or in a group when possible and travel well-lighted and busy routes. When able, avoid walking or parking in dark or isolated areas. Avoid walking with people you do not know well or trust.
- Take advantage of the bus service on campus. Buses pick up and drop off in well-lit areas and typically groups enter and exit. Feel free to contact the UNLPD and request a Safe Walk if you are by yourself.
- If you suspect someone is following you or feel uncomfortable about someone near you, stay away from dimly lit areas and head to a populated area or building you know is open. Change directions, cross the street, and/or vary your pace. Show you are suspicious and aware of the person.
- Cause a scene if you feel threatened, yell if necessary.

Crime prevention and awareness, as well as consistent reporting, may be the strongest defenses against becoming a victim.
